FRESH THINKING

That's what PJ Impex is all about.

From our products to our full-service documentation to the way we communicate with our customers — in their own language — everything about our company is built on a fresh approach to business that makes us one of the leading Canadian merchants of meat, poultry and produce worldwide.

In fact, PJ has sharpened its focus on providing only the freshest of these staples, with a particular expertise in pork, to customers in major international markets, and nurturing a supply chain in the world's key food-producing regions.

PJ Impex has been an industry leader for more than 25 years, which sets us apart from competing food suppliers and speaks volumes to the level of our customer satisfaction.

If you're in the market for top-quality product and unmatched service, contact the PJ sales team today and put our fresh thinking to work for you.
